AutoClip Terms of Service — Candidate for Review

Status: DRAFT — PENDING OWNER AND QUALIFIED LEGAL REVIEW Version: Candidate 1.1-draft (prepared 2026-11-02) Operator: 56.151.919 DIOGO NASCIMENTO DOS SANTOS, MEI holder, CNPJ 56.151.919/0001-30, Brazil Contact: diogos.nascimento@outlook.com (monitoring not verified) Effective date: PENDING OWNER AND QUALIFIED LEGAL REVIEW Not published: this candidate does not replace `apps/web/public/terms-of-service.html`.

This candidate is a drafting aid only. Do not present it as an enforceable or approved contract until the operator completes legal review and approves the final version.

1. Provider and service

AutoClip is the trade name of 56.151.919 DIOGO NASCIMENTO DOS SANTOS, an individual micro-entrepreneur (MEI), CNPJ 56.151.919/0001-30, operating in Brazil ("Operator"). The business is based in Rio de Janeiro/RJ. AutoClip provides workspace-based tools for managing user-authorized social-account connections, media, schedules, publication requests and history, subject to features actually enabled for your account. The service does not guarantee that TikTok or TikTok Shop accepts, publishes, retains or displays content at a particular time or to a particular audience.

2. Eligibility and account security

You must be legally able to use the service and comply with applicable law and platform terms. You are responsible for protecting your authentication factors, selecting workspace members and promptly reporting suspected account compromise through diogos.nascimento@outlook.com; monitoring and response coverage must be confirmed before publication. Do not share credentials or grant access beyond your authority.

3. Workspaces and authorization

Workspace owners and administrators may manage access within their workspace, subject to the service's actual authorization controls. You may connect only an account you own or are authorized to manage. AutoClip may use only the permissions you grant and only for the service actions you request. TikTok Login Kit and TikTok Shop authorization may have different terms and token behavior.

4. User content

You retain rights in content you provide. You grant the Operator a limited, non-exclusive permission to store, process and transmit that content only as needed to provide the features you request, protect the service and meet legal duties. You represent that you have the rights and permissions needed for the content and its intended publication. The final license scope, territory and duration require legal approval.

5. Acceptable use and platform dependencies

You may not use AutoClip to violate law, platform rules or third-party rights, bypass controls, interfere with service security, or access another workspace without authority. TikTok and TikTok Shop operate independent services and may change API availability, scopes, eligibility or decisions. You remain responsible for reviewing the destination account and platform requirements.

6. Scheduling, publication and service limits

Scheduling records an intended operation; it is not a guarantee of publication. Jobs may be delayed, fail, require account reauthorization, or enter a state requiring reconciliation. Do not assume a failed or timed-out request had no external effect. Quotas and plan terms must be separately confirmed before this clause is used; this candidate intentionally adds no pricing, checkout or billing terms.

7. Privacy, retention and deletion

Once approved and published, processing will be described in the Operator's Privacy Policy at [VERIFIED PUBLIC PRIVACY URL]. Requests and deletion will be handled under the approved process at [VERIFIED REQUEST/DELETION CHANNEL]. Disconnecting an external account, deleting AutoClip records, deleting stored media and removing content already sent to a platform are distinct operations. Retention periods and legal exceptions must match the approved schedule and actual system behavior.

8. Suspension and termination

The Operator may restrict access when reasonably necessary to protect users, the service, third parties, or comply with law or platform terms. Before approval, define applicable notice, review, queued-job handling, credential revocation and data deletion effects. A termination clause must not promise immediate deletion where backups or provider-side retention prevent it.

9. Availability, warranties and liability

The final text must explain service availability and remedies accurately and comply with mandatory consumer protections. Any warranty disclaimer, limitation of liability or cap, venue, dispute mechanism and governing-law clause must be drafted or approved by qualified counsel for the actual operator and target users. No such legal conclusion is made by this candidate.

10. Changes and contact

The Operator may update these Terms through a notice and acceptance process reviewed for applicable law. Contact: diogos.nascimento@outlook.com (monitoring not verified). Operator identity: 56.151.919 DIOGO NASCIMENTO DOS SANTOS, MEI holder. Effective date: [TO BE SET AFTER APPROVAL]. Maintain a version history and a copy of each version presented to users.

Approval gate

Resolve remaining factual/legal fields (including website, effective date, privacy URL, monitoring, service scope and contractual terms), obtain legal review, compare English and Portuguese versions, verify privacy/deletion links, approve the version and date, and obtain separate publication authorization. Until then this candidate is not ready for users or submission.
